CO-EDS, OR CASH? GIRLS ARE DROPPED

Pennington Seminary Heeds Edict, Fearing Boycott In Making of Wills.

PENNINGTON, N. J., April 8 .- "You can keep on teaching girls at Penning-ton Seminary if you want to, but as long as you persist in co-education not one of us will mention the school in our least a dozen rich men to the trustees of the famous New Jersey institution, is the real reason behind President Read's declaration that with the end of the year it will become exclusively a school for boys.

Girls in High Dudgeon. Girls in High Dudgeon.

Fifty girls, forty of them sophomores and juniors, are "hopping mad" at the edict. But, as Dr. Read pointed out, it was a question of girls and poverty, or no girls and affluence, and Pennington is too far in the financial rut to let mere girls lose it six big legacies.

"But it isn't as though we hadn't provided for the young ladles," said a former president of the trustees. "You see we've been co-educational at Pennington for fifty years.

No "Sievy Schadle" for Them.

No "Sissy Schools" for Them. "There were never enough girls to really pay their teaching, and in late years, particularly, a lot of boys pupils were kept away because, no matter how weil they played baseball, they would

'Then we had to hedge the school around with a lot of rules that grate on the nerves of boys who know how schools for men govern themselves, and it got to such a pass in the course of the last three years that the girl students were a positive financial detriment to us.

'Moreover, other co-educational schools were changing to men's schools, and finally we were informed that we might expect a decent endowment from our rich friends only when we turned out the girls.

Exchange With Hackettstown. "So the board of trustees arranged a in the Newark conference district. Hackettstown has always had more girl than boy students, and on vote of the conference Hackettstown agreed to become a girls' school and turn its boys to us if we would turn our girls over to it. We wreed.

"Some of the girls say they won't go, and, of course, we can't force them. But at the end of the term the last girl pupil will have studied books in Pennington, and by the middle of next year we'll have an endowment fund that will make

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

Woman's suffrage has a stanch sym-pathizer and supporter in Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture

At a meeting last night of the Elizabeth Cady Stanton branch of the Dis-trict Woman's Suffrage Association, Dr. Wiley said he had always believed in votes for women, and will go back to votes for women, and will go back to his native State—Indiana—and vote to give them the suffrage. However, he believes the question of the suffrage. pelieves the question should be given deration from every point of view. He made it plain that he would be opposed to giving women votes if the privilege would mean the breaking up of the home ties and bringing abou discontent in the household.

Although Dr. Wiley was booked to speak on woman suffrage, he touched before he concluded. He declared that the schools in the United States are in meed of considerable reform; that there should be certain limitations placed upon men's right to vote; and that prohibition will never eradicate the evils of temperance.

Keeps Servants Satisfied

It is the grind of housework that disgruntles servants—the pushing and lifting, the brushing and brooming and the dust, dirt and grime that brings dissatisfaction.

Cleaning by suction with a "PEERLESS" is the scientific, modern, sanitary way.

It does away with the necessity of moving furniture, saves work and time, draws in every atom of dirt and dust instead of stirring it into the atmosphere only to settle again. It keeps servants satisfied.
